Encouraging enterprise

The elderly in the family, particularly those found with age-matching physical fitness and having lived a life of fulfilment in Mysuru of years gone-by, could be heard reminding the young members of the family on the threshold of adulthood about the imperatives and importance of industriousness as the hallmark of a person. Their crisply stated prescription that no person should be idling, with the words Udyogam Purushalakshanam, is considered to be quaint expression only because earning a livelihood is no longer restricted to males in society. The debate on the issue of industriousness as applied to males and females seems to be limited to urban populations given its irrelevance in rural parts witnessing the conspicuous presence of industrious females both within the confines of their homes and out in the fields, outnumbering the males tilling the soil using the plough, and females taking over the rest of the tasks — transplanting, harvesting, winnowing, sorting to separate grains and dockage, cooking and serving food. In short, rural women have pre-empted the unknown author of the aforementioned quaint expression.

Parents spending their resources in the stages of upbringing and educating their children with the avowedly main goal of grooming them to be adults capable of standing on their own legs as it were are currently staring down the barrel in the backdrop of a) industry circles saying that the University graduates are not employable and b) abrupt decline in opportunities in the job market even in the IT sector.

The society is beholden to the thousands of young men and women, as in Mysuru, Bengaluru and many other towns in Karnataka as well as other States across the country, for launching themselves on many newfound enterprises, with the setting up of roadside mobile canteens in numbers never seen anytime before being at the top, yet, this mass of good Samaritans is in the unorganised category, thus unable to reap any monetary and other benefits that the workforce in the organised category commands (allowances, provident fund, paid leave, medical care, post-retirement benefits and so on). The sad story also applies to the thousands of vendors of essentials, particularly vegetables at day break, who are at the mercy of blood-thirsty middlemen (commission agents).

In the foregoing backdrop, the reported call given by the Union Finance Minister to financial institutions, banks including the National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development to come forward in funding the unfunded, self-employed sections meeting the needs of society, augurs well. While some motivated individuals are already in the noble act of encouraging enterprise, more people have to emulate them.

You could hurt your eye by being upside down, says one research study; optic nerves can protest or glaucoma can worsen. It was alright when yoga was for the elderly and the infirm. But now with yoga spawning a whole fashion industry, not to mention a celeb clientele, fans of this discipline feel superior to those of us less bendy. Guinness record for pencils collection

New Delhi: Seventeen- year-old Tushar Lakhanpal has a "passion." He loves collecting pencils and has been nursing his interest since he was just three. In the last decade and a half, he has collected over 19,000 of them. The teenager hailing from Gurgaon recently created a new Guinness record for having the largest collection of pencils in the world. "The largest collection of pencils consists of 19,824 pencils and belongs to Tushar Lakhanpal (India) as verified in Delhi, India, on 14 October 2015," the Guinness World Records website states. Lakhanpal's huge collection of pencils include regular wooden pencils to mechanical ones, coloured pencils to flexible ones and even those studded with Swarovski crystals. A majority of pencils from his huge collection are usually stacked up in glass frames in the basement of his house. There are 500 pencils in each frame. Lakhanpal, wish is to set up a pencil museum for the public, he says.

Climbing mountain on heels!

London: At 1,345 meters above sea level, Ben Nevis is definitely not the World's most difficult mountain to climb. But things get considerably trickier if instead of hiking shoes you put on a pair of 5-inch high heels, especially if you're a guy. But this English teenager proved that it's not impossible. Ben Conway, a 19-year-old art student from London, recently took up the challenge of hiking up to the top of the highest mountain in the UK in high-heel shoes, as a way to stand out in an application for a scholarship for the School of Communication Arts in Brixton. Applicants were asked to "make something passionate about something that they are passionate about," and since Ben loves drag culture and has been scouting for 13 years, he decided that marrying the two hobbies was a good idea. Apart from providing a unique art school application project, the high-heel climb also allowed the 19-year-old to raise some money for worthy causes, like the LGBT rights charity Stonewall, and Sal's Shoes, which provides footwear for barefoot children around the world.

More on taming Mysuru traffic

Sir,

This has reference to the article Taming our Traffic by Dr. Javeed Nayeem (Star of Mysore dated July 7) and I fully concur with the views expressed by him. Siddarthanagar, which was till recently a quiet place, has also turned into a hot place for such adventures by youngsters, particularly on Vinaya Marga, and on the road from Dairy to Lalitha Mahal Road.

His suggestion that Police should give priority to those offenders who endanger the lives of others is very apt. I had raised this matter many times in the last about four years with the Police officers directly while they were on the prowl for helmetless riders with no result.

Besides various such violations noted by Dr. Nayeem, using high beam light in city limits is another violation which needs to be punished. The Police use their energy in booking helmetless riders even after sunset. In my opinion after sunset, they have to target only those using high beam, as this could be done only after sunset.

During many such interactions with the Police, I have found that they have very little inclination to book such offenders. I used to interact with such offenders at traffic signals, and have found that most of them are not aware of the law in this regard. Traffic Police in Bengaluru have started booking such violations. I hope the Traffic Police of our city too will pay attention to it.

IMEI number changing gang busted; two arrested

Mysuru, July 14 (RK&BCT)- Even as the Department of Telecommunications is planning to notify rules that will make tampering of IMEI number a punishable offence with up to three years imprisonment, the City Police have yesterday busted a gang that is involved in altering the IMEI numbers of mobile phone handsets.

International Mobile-Station Equipment Identity (IMEI) is a unique 15-digit code used to identify valid mobile devices. It is often used for stopping a stolen phone from accessing a mobile network and later tracking it down. It helps security agencies in tracking mobile phones as well as calls made from them. However, due to diverse software in the market, changing the IMEI number of stolen handsets for reuse is rampant.

A Police team led by Udayagiri Inspector P.P. Santhosh cornered Udayagiri resident Shoaib and Kasib of Sathagalli when they were moving suspiciously near Kalyangiri on the Ring Road.

When they were brought to the Police Station and interrogated, the duo told the Police that they routinely changed IMEI numbers of mobile phones to resell them.

The Police have seized over 30 mobile phone handsets, laptops, IMEI crackers, IMEI number changing software, equipments and computers. They have been formally arrested and have been produced before a court that has sent them to judicial custody.

Investigations have revealed that Shoaib and Kasib owned a shop on K.T. Street and they used to sell Chinese goods including electronic items. They used to procure stolen handsets and used to erase the original IMEI numbers of the handsets and reintroduce their own IMEI numbers.

The Police have suspected that Shoaib and Kasib is a part of a larger gang that is systematically involved in changing IMEI numbers and marketing such handsets all over the country. As it is, Chinese handsets have many takers as they are cheap.

Once the IMEI number that has been inserted by the handset manufacturer is changed by such unscrupulous elements, it is difficult for the Police to track such numbers and mostly criminals use such handsets to commit a crime and go untraced.

It may be recalled here that in 2014, the Mysuru Police had arrested one Pandey of West Bengal for changing IMEI numbers. The accused managed to get bail soon and he was released.

The Department of Telecommunications has barred telecom operators from providing service to any mobile phone with fake IMEI number, but the operators face problem in identifying handsets with duplicate IMEI numbers.

In one of the tracking case of a mobile phone, the Telecom Enforcement Resource and Monitoring Cell found there were around 18,000 handsets using the same IMEI number.

According to the Police, International Mobile-Station Equipment Identity changing applications, mostly procured through online forums, often come in pair with hardware, popular by the moniker 'IMEI cracker'. It can be bought for anything between Rs. 16,000 and Rs. 20,000.

Kerala youths escape attack by highway robbers

Incident occurs near Bilikere; attackers came with lethal weapons and cricket bats

Mysuru, July 14 (RK&BCT)- The criminal gangs that usually target late-night travellers on the Mysuru-Madikeri-Bantwal and Mysuru-Hunsur Highway are back in action after a brief lull. A gang of seven members, armed with lethal weapons and cricket bats, attacked a group of youth who were travelling in a car from Kerala to Bengaluru via Mysuru in the wee hours of yesterday.

According to the Police, a group of youth hailing from Panathur in Kerala were travelling to Mysuru in their Chevrolet Aveo car (KL-60-B-9752) . They have been identified as Jisman, Arif and Unnais. Jisman owned a hotel in Bengaluru and was travelling along with his friends Arif and Unnais.

As they crossed Hunsur and travelled around 10 kilometres, a Toyota Etios car that did not have a registration number plate started following their car. When Jisman, who was behind the wheels, reached close to Bilikere, the car that was following him hit his car from behind and this happened a couple of times.

Panicking, Jisman and his friends drove fast and the other car managed to overtake them and forced them to stop at Bilikere. Jisman and his friends immediately got down from the car, locked its doors and were trying to escape when over six persons (one person was in the driving seat) got down from the other car with lethal weapons, iron rods and cricket bats.

While the gang was chasing Arif and Unnais, Jisman somehow managed to go back to his car and drove it to a hotel through a mud road on the highway where there were some people who had got down from night-service buses. Seeing Jisman standing near the group of people, the gang members panicked and fled. Jisman's friends later joined him.

After escaping from the gang, the friends went to the Bilikere Police Station and narrated their ordeal. Acting on their complaint, a Police team from Hunsur Rural Station visited the spot and conducted mahazar.

The Police have obtained CCTV footages that have recorded the movement of vehicles from an hour before and an hour after the crime.

The Police have booked a case under Crime Number 202/12 and under Sections 398, 517 and 305.

Following the incident, night patrolling on the highway has been intensified.

DC takes note of non-registration of FIRs in child marriage cases

Mysuru, July 14 (PM&DM)- Deputy Commissioner (DC) D. Randeep directed officials to constitute teams at district, taluk and village levels and assign tasks to them in order to curb child marriages.

Chairing a progress review meeting of Women & Child Welfare Department Committees, DC Randeep expressed disappointment over non-registration of FIRs in Child Marriage cases.

Stressing on the need for a perfect co-ordination among all stake holders in the prevention of child marriages, he said that quarterly meetings of the committees must be held to check this evil practise.

Pointing out that meetings at the Tahsildar level will help in finding a solution to this social menace, the DC underlined the role of Child Development Project Officers in the prevention of child marriages.

Asking the officials to trace places where children are employed, the DC asked the officials to convince the children to get admitted in schools and also to educate the shop owners against engaging children for work.

The DC directed the officials to cancel the Trade Licenses of owners of such shop if they continue to employ children even after sensitisation programmes.

Women and Child Welfare Department Deputy Director K. Radha, District Women Development Officer K. Padma, Children Welfare Committee President Sheela Khare, MCC Additional Commissioner Raju, DDPI H.R. Basappa and others were present.

Dy.SP Ganapathy's suicide case

SC issues notice to Minister K.J. George

New Delhi, July 14 - The Supreme Court yesterday issued notice to Bengaluru Development Minister K.J. George, seeking his response in a plea for a CBI probe into the suicide of Deputy Superintendent of Police (Dy.SP) M.K. Ganapathy on July 7, 2016.

K.J. George

Before his death, Ganapathy, then posted at the office of Inspector General of Police, Mangaluru, had in a TV interview accused the Minister and senior IPS officers A.M. Prasad and Pranob Mohanty of harassing him.

Acting on a plea by Ganapathy's father M.K. Kushalappa, a Supreme Court Bench decided to issue notice to George and the two IPS officers. The court sought their response within four weeks to the petition seeking CBI investigation into the death.

It may be mentioned here that on July 9, the Karnataka government opposed a CBI probe into the suicide. The State maintained in the SC that a "thorough and in-depth investigation" has been carried out and no prudent person can term the investigation as biased Kushalappa had contended that his son was hounded by George and IPS officers. George had to resign and the Police officers were transferred after the FIR was registered on July 19 following an order by a Madikeri court. However, the CID, which investigated the case, under the supervision of the Director General of Police, filed a closure report before a trial court.

M.K. Ganapathy

Kushalappa then approached the Karnataka High Court and on October 19, 2016, the HC declined his plea for a CBI probe. He then approached the Supreme Court for justice.

Goods and Services Tax is a miraculous achievement, says Nirmala Sitharaman

G.S.T - ಒಂದು ರಾಷ್ಟ್ರ, ONE NATION - ONE TAX
WELCOME TO MYSURU SMT.NIRMALA SITHARAMAN
Union Minister for Commerce & Industry Govt of India

Mysuru, July 14 (NNN)- Even as the tax chaos continues with so much of pre-GST uncertainty, the erudite Union Minister of State for Commerce and Industry Nirmala Sitharaman said the introduction of One Nation, One Market, One Tax, was a miraculous achievement.

Participating in the GST — One Nation, One Tax, interaction with the industry and trade bodies of Mysuru, organised by the BJP District Unit, at Hotel Pai Vista here last evening, Sitharaman said if on the midnight of August 14-15, 1947, India awoke to political freedom, it was the economic freedom that marked the midnight of June 30-July 1, 2017 event at the Central Hall of the Parliament.

Trying to allay the fears of the hall packed with businessmen, traders, CAs, builders, she began, "Doubts about implementation of GST, its impact, what is happening, can the rates be changed would be cleared and if there are anomalies in the system, it will also be taken up by the GST Council. However, as far as the issues of rate of taxation is concerned, it is more or less settled," and added "if there are queries then the GST Commissioner will explain and I will pitch in."

Taking pains to explain about GST and how it was formulated, Sitharaman said, "It is not the decision of just one party or the PM or the FM. It is Finance Ministers of all 29 States, 7 Union Territories and the Union Finance Minister who sat in 18 GST Council meetings before June 30-July 1, who have drafted the GST. They met on Saturdays and in day-long marathon meetings, chaired by the Opposition party's Finance Ministers, that would begin at 10 am, discuss chapter by chapter."

She explained that there are five rate slabs of 0, 5, 12, 18 and 28 per cent and all that has been done is, after the weighted average, the taxes that were there earlier had been moved to the nearest tax slab. Hence, there is principle revenue neutrality as there is no reason for the State to lose or earn more.

Sanitary napkins

Talking about the sanitary napkins issue that has raised the hackles of the women in the country, Sitharaman said, "How can they put tax on sanitary napkins? This is one example of revenue neutrality. There is no new tax imposed on sanitary napkins. The taxes had been imposed on it but it was not visible," and added, "earlier there was 17 taxes and 23 cesses and the cascading effect of taxes has been insulated."

She said the GST Network (GSTN) is a non-profit, non-government organisation. It will manage the entire IT system of the GST portal, which is the mother database for everything GST. This portal will be used by the government to track every financial transaction, and will provide taxpayers with all services — from registration to filing taxes and maintaining all tax details — she said adding GSTN was doing over Rs. 32 crore transaction per day through its network.

Recalling her visit to a foreign country (she did not wish to name the country) recently, Sitharaman said, "The Prime Minister and the Minister of that country spent a lot of time talking to me about BHIM, GST, and other issues like demonetisation. They were surprised at what we have achieved and even if it is 60 per cent it is a miraculous achievement."

No Inspector Raj

Stressing on the importance of GST, she said that what was required now is greater transparency among the people and everyone must be extremely proud of GST. The chain of paying taxes should remain and if it is broken at any stage, then one is at a loss as the transaction will end abruptly. Hence, it is very important to keep the chain moving and populate the account.

"If there is transparency, none of the Commissioners will come and inspect. More importantly not one Inspector is going to come and visit and you do not even have to offer a cup of chai. However, let us be honest about it and accept that most were not trying to pay taxes," she said amidst laughter.

Mahamastakabhisheka Exhibition Committee meets Union Minister

Seeks assistance for hosting International Expo-2018 at Shravanabelagola

Mysuru, July 14- A delegation of the Mahamastakabhisheka Mahotsava Exhibition Committee met Union Minister Nirmala Sitharaman in city yesterday, under the leadership of MP Pratap Simha, to seek assistance for hosting an Intl. Exhibition during the Mahamastakabhisheka at Shravanabelagola in Feb. 2018.

The delegation led by Committee President Suresh Kumar Jain comprised Vinod Bakliwal, President, Food Committee; M.R. Sunil Kumar, President, Jain Samaj; Prakash Babu, Past President, Jain Samaj and Lakshmi Prasad. The memorandum said the mega event will be witnessed by nearly 30 lakh pilgrims, tourists, trade and industry members among others.

The Mahamastakabhisheka Exhibition Committee members submitting a memorandum to Union Minister Nirmala Sitharaman in city yesterday as MP Pratap Simha looks on.

The Committee plans to hold an International Religious, Industrial, Agricultural, Horticultural, Archaeological and Heritage Exhibition including marketing of domestic manufacturing products through Karnataka Exhibition Authority from Feb. 15 to Feb. 28, 2018 at Shravanabelagola in Hassan District, it said.

The memorandum stated special focus would be given to Government of India initiatives like Digital India, Make in India, Skill India, Clean India etc.

The Expo also includes Yoga Training and Demo, Krishi Mela, Ahara Mela, Investors Meet, MSME Convention, Farmers Convention, Udyog Mela, Short-term Skill Development Training, EDP & MDP Programmes along with seminars and workshops.

The Minister assured the delegation all support from her Ministry after holding discussions with the officers concerned.

GST: Conduct cluster meetings,

Union Minister tells Commissioner

Mysuru, July 14 (NNN)- Union Minister Nirmala Sitharaman pointedly asked the GST Mysuru Commissionerate, Commissioner G.V. Krishna Rao to go to the people instead of sitting in the office to clarify the problems and issues faced by the trade and industry bodies.

Krishna Rao

"Your mission should be to go to each cluster, sit with the affected people there and discuss their problems. I do not want anyone to go to the Commissioner. Wherever your jurisdiction is visit each and every one of them and give me a ground report. I want you to start the exercise from tomorrow itself," she said.

The Commissioner tried to stand his ground and informed the Minister that every effort on the part of the Commissionerate was going on and already many meetings had been held with the people and doubts were being cleared. To this, Sitharaman told the audience, "Please let me know if there are any questions unanswered. I will personally take it up with the Commissionerate." And, again asked the Commissioner to make a checklist of the questions so that he and his team could answer them or direct them to GST Council.

Even as she was giving directions to the Commissioner and his team, Sitharaman was adroitly fielding questions from the select audience of traders, businessmen, industrialists, CAs, builders and service providers.

Industrialist Raian F. Irani posing a question at the interaction on GST in city last evening.

The very first question posed by a LPG filling unit person that how could it be explained that on the same product two taxes of 5 and 18 per cent could be imposed, the Commissioner was not able to give a convincing reply and he asked his team members to reply. As they were struggling to find the answer, Sitharaman asked the organisers to move to the next question.

Then the members of the Handicrafts Manufacturers Association of Mysuru explained to her the impact of the GST on their industry to which she replied that there is input tax credit available to them.

A waste manufacturer had a question on how much of a tax burden he will be faced with as he collects waste and does not charge anything for it (and there is no scope to get input tax credit), Sitharaman chipped in to ask, "Can I give you an answer. If your turnover is less than Rs. 20 lakh then you do not have to worry it. However, if your turnover exceeds Rs. 75 lakh then I think, you have no choice but to pay."

Chartered Accountant C.M. Achutha began his question by telling that after the introduction of GST, the government was honest, the dealers were honest and the politicians were honest too and stopped at that. Sitharaman said "Even CA is also honest." There were peals of laughter.

Industrialist Raian Irani wanted to know whether he needed to have two GST numbers as he had his properties in Mysuru and Pune, which he had rented out. The Commissioner replied that he had to take two GST numbers as he had properties in two different States.

Tyre dealer B.M. Prakash wondered why the tax on the rear tyre (huge tyre) of the tractor was higher and also pointed out that the animal-drawn cart tyres were enjoying 0% tax and what was the situation now.

In reply to a question from Hemanth of BAI referring to Singapore having a single tax of 7 per cent, Sitharaman said, "We all want to have one rate, it is not just Modi or NDA and that is the ideal situation. In a vast and diverse country like India, however, it is not possible at present. You will not be able to protect 'Make in India.' That is the reason why there is tax on sanitary napkins, otherwise the country will be flooded with cheap imports."

Another Chartered Accountant B.S. Ravikumar said that more time needs to be given to let the GST kick in and at least there should be one year time gap before penalties levied.

Sitharaman gave a candid, barbed reply, "I have to submit, CAs have been in the thick of the matter. I wished more preparations with the clients happened. Change is not something a CA should be scared of."

Then she went on to explain, "Everyone thought GST will not happen on July 1. All of us relaxed. We thought the government will go on and on about it and will not implement. I must tell you that until today, nothing has gone wrong with GST. It has come with a vibrant, robust network."

Former Minister and MLA Suresh Kumar, in his concluding address, said that there was a real good interaction. "Today, we have seen one of the members of Modi's team. Imagine how the rest of the team is. You have all welcomed GST. We will try to resolve all issues."

Pay Rs. 10, take selfie !

Mysuru, July 14 (NNN)- The BJP leaders and party workers had gathered in large numbers at the house of BJP City President Dr. B. H. Manjunath to meet Union Minister Nirmala Sitharaman who was visiting to partake in lunch. There was a scramble to take photos with her. "If you want to take selfie with me, then you have to pay Rs. 10 and this will go into the charity account of Swachh Bharat Abhiyan led by BJP leader H.V. Rajeev." Yesterday, more than Rs. 800 was collected as part of this exercise.

Maharaja High School, PU College in dilapidated condition

Retired Principal, faculty stage day-long protest

Retired Principal B.S. Sridhar Raje Urs (third from left), who is spearheading the protest, is seen speaking to Maharaja High School and PU College School Development Management Committee (SDMC) Chairman MLA Vasu at college premises this morning as others look on.

Mysuru, July 14 (RK&BCT)- The dilapidated condition of the century-old Maharaja High School and PU College shot into limelight this morning with the alumni of the college staging a day-long dharna in front of the college drawing the attention of the State government.

Incidentally, today (July 14) is the birth anniversary of Mummadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar who established the school and the protesters kept a portrait of Maharaja Mummadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar along with the portraits of Swami Vivekananda and Mahatma Gandhi in the dharna. The protest was held near the bust of Mummadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar on the college campus.

The protest was organised by Alumni Association of Maharaja's High School and PU College. According to B.S. Sridhar Raje Urs, the President of the Alumni Association, Maharaja Mummadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar founded the 'Raja Free School' for the education of poor children in 1833. The Maharaja High School and the Maharaja Pre-University College is a continuation of the 'Raja Free School'.

Successive governments have neglected the institution and the building is in a dilapidated condition. The compound in front of the institution has collapsed many years back. This has been brought to the notice of the Chief Minister's office, District In-charge Minister, Deputy Commissioner, MUDA Chairman, Zilla Panchayat President, MLAs and the Heritage Commissioner, many times since two years but no action has been taken so far, forcing the association to stage a dharna.

Despite the college campus being located near heritage buildings including DC Office and Chamundi Guest House, it has not been classified as a Heritage building. "Unfortunately, we are celebrating the birth anniversary of the founder with a broken compound and a building without repairs and paint for years," he said.

The demands of the association include immediate sanction of funds by the State Government directly from the Finance Department to the Public Works Department to undertake the construction of the compound wall and to repair the building and inclusion of the institution building in the Heritage List and carryout renovation and repair works as per the heritage guidelines.

He said that many prominent people have been educated here including celebrated novelist R.K. Narayan, well-known cartoonist R.K. Laxman, former CM Devaraja Urs, Vedanta Hemmige, Agaram Rangaiah, novelist Chaduranga and noted photographer T.S. Satyan (all late) and other personalities like art connoisseur K.V. Murthy and filmmaker M.S. Sathyu.

Sridhar Raje Urs said that he will meet Chief Minister Siddharamaiah this evening and submit a memorandum highlighting the woes of the institution.

Hearing about the dharna, Chairman of Maharaja High School and PU College School Development Management Committee (SDMC) MLA Vasu arrived at the college and heard the protesters. Displaying documents, he said that the issues of the college have already been highlighted before the government. He said that he would speak to the authorities and the CM to get immediate funds.

SDMC members Kalmaradappa, Siddaiah, Puttaveera Raje Urs, K. Subba Raje Urs, Ramachandra Raje Urs, Prasanna, D. Sevanthi Rai, Corporator D. Nagabhushan, former faculty of the PU College K.K. Devamma, college teachers and students participated in the dawn-to-dusk dharna.

Ashada Friday: MP Shobha Karandlaje among hundreds who climbed Chamundi Hill steps

Mysuru, July 14 (MTY&VNS)- MP Shobha Karandlaje, who climbed the Chamundi Hill steps on account of Ashada Friday, said that the Home Department in the State was weak and there was no measures taken to maintain the Law and Order which had led to the murders of RSS workers.

Stating that CM Siddharamaiah was afraid of taking the name of one particular community, Shobha Karandlaje demanded the CM to order for a thorough investigation and bring the culprits to justice.

The BJP leader said that she would pray to Goddess Chamundeshwari to give strength for the State Government to initiate action against the culprits and also to protect the Hindus.

Meanwhile, the puja rituals at the Hill temple commenced as early as 3.30 am and the temple doors were opened at 5.30 am to the devotees. The Muzrai Department had organised special queues of Rs. 300, Rs. 100 and Rs. 50 for the darshan. The temple was decorated with colourful chrysanthemum, marigold and other flowers.

Similar to previous two Ashada Fridays, the district administration had organised free bus services from Lalitha Mahal Helipad to the hill top and special buses also operated from City Bus Stand.

A few people were also seen distributing food (anna dasoha) to devotees atop the hill near the parking area. District Administration had given emphasis to cleanliness.

Among the prominent personalities who visited the temple this morning included MLA G.T. Devegowda, actor Darshan Tugudeepa, City BJP President Dr. B.H. Manjunath, BJP National Council Member B.P. Manjunath, former MUDA Chairman L. Nagendra and Advocate S. Arun Kumar.

BJP fanning violence in State: CM

Mysuru, July 14 (RKB&DM)- Accusing the BJP of fanning violence in the State, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah lashed out at the BJP saying that the party always wanted to keep communal issues alive for political gains. He was speaking to press persons at Mandakalli Airport here this morning on a two-day tour of Mysuru to launch various works.

He said the BJP, which failed to build the Ram temple as promised, is now working towards keeping the issue alive.

Reacting to the alleged corruption in the Prisons Department, the CM said he had ordered a probe into corruption in Bengaluru's Parappana Agrahara Jail. The Government will take necessary action based on the probe report.

Referring to the war of words between two IPS Officers of the Prisons Department, Siddharamaiah said it was not correct on the part of senior Police Officers to speak to the media. Taking exception to DIG (Prisons) D. Roopa repeatedly speaking to the media, he said that a notice has been served to the DIG.

Expressing his ire on MP Pratap Simha's allegations that close associates of CM were behind the killing of RSS activist Sharath Madiwala, Siddharamaiah said the MP was making baseless allegations, which shows his political immaturity.

Claiming that the BJP would not return to power in the State, the CM dismissing Union Minister Nirmala Sitharaman's statement that the State was losing out on investments due to unrest, said that law and order situation in the State was fine.

K. Ramachandra, a Gamaka Artiste Unparalleled

Parampare and K. Ramachandra Abhimanigala Balaga have jointly organised a programme at Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha on JLB Road in city tomorrow (July 15) at 11 am to felicitate K. Ramachandra, a Senior Gamaka Artiste from Mysuru, who turns 75.

Scholar Dr. T.V. Venkatachala Shastry will release the felicitation volume 'Krishnagiri.' Dr. T.N. Nagarathna will speak about the book. M.R. Sathyanarayana, Vidu. Gangamma Keshavamurthy, Dr. A.V. Prasanna and Dr. R.S. Nandakumar will be the chief guests. Prior to that at 10 am, Gamaka Vachana by various Gamakis and Gamaka - Dance Feature 'Subhadra Parinaya' will be performed.

To mark the occasion, here we publish a write-up on Gamaka Artiste. Now read on...

The famous Gamaka Artiste K. Ramachandra often declares that "Gamaka is my birthright." The reason being it was his father Krishnagiri Krishna Rao, who was one of the noted figures who resurrected the distinct art form of Gamaka in Karnataka.

Ramachandra was born in the year 1942 in Mysore. He spent almost two decades in close proximity with his father. It is not wrong to say that Ramachandra saw his father more as an artiste than as a father. His mother was Saraswathi Bai, daughter of Beluru Krishna Rao.

Ramachandra says, "Ours was a joint family then and those were the days of extreme poverty and difficulties. Food grains were available only through ration shops. When I recall that my mother would distribute the little food that was at home amongst all the others and remain hungry many days in a week, my eyes fill up with tears." His mother would never reveal her difficulties or pains but played a major role in his father becoming a famous artiste.

Her simple and pure life and the way she nurtured relationships has been a great influence on me, says Ramachandra. It is said that Ramachandra's ancestors came from Krishnagiri of Andhra Pradesh and, therefore, it has stuck to his name. Though his father had proficiency in music, particularly violin, he chose the Gamaka art form for his profession.

Ramachandra's early education was in the government schools followed by Sarada Vilas Institutions where accomplished teachers like Seetharama Shastry and Ramakrishna Shastry were known for their teaching. Even as Ramachandra was a student of the high school, he appeared for "Gamaka Pravesha" examination, thanks to his father who had conducted many Gamaka classes and trained many disciples. As most of his students were women, Ramachandra could not learn from his father directly. He, therefore, learnt Gamaka from his elder sister, Kamalu and got through the examination in first class.

His recitation started with his father's commentary in the Raghavendra Swamy temple situated in Subbarayanakere area. Whenever his sister was indisposed, Ramachandra would get an opportunity to recite in her place. This was much appreciated by the audience.

Ramachandra fondly remembers an incident when his father became indisposed and couldn't give the commentary to the recitation of the great Gamaka artiste B.S.S. Kaushik. It was a section on "Saughandika Harana" of Kumaravyasa Bharatha. Ramachandra's father tutored the meanings of each line and ordered Ramachandra to give the commentary. Ramachandra made excellent use of this opportunity and created a niche for himself.

Krishna Rao was known to adopt new ragas in his recitation. It was the common practice to recite only six-line verse forms for the recitation (Shatpadi Kavya) but Krishna Rao effectively showed that different forms such as Champu, Ragale and Sanghatya can be adopted for recitation and thereby popularised many ancient verses. Ramachandra acknowledges his father's influence in the choice of the poem, its context, familiarity with the verse form and style.

Along with such a strong foundation in art, Ramachandra's education also continued and he secured a merit seat in the National Institute of Engineering (NIE), Mysore. But there was some financial problem. Ramachandra remembers the encouragement and support he received from Prof. H.M. Shankarnarayana Rao and Gowramma Srinivasmurthy. He also acknowledges the help he received from Srinivas Sharma when he started his profession.

Ramachandra started his profession as a Supervisor supplementing his income from giving private tuitions to needy students. When he was working in Robertsonpet near KGF, he started offering Gamaka classes as per the advice of the famous Gamaka artiste Raghavendra Rao. He also completed his M.E. from the NIE.

Ramachandra, who is married to city's noted danseuse Dr. Tulsi Ramachandra, acknowledges the support of his wife and son in his chosen profession. His familiarity with three languages gives him unusual insights while providing the commentary to complex verse compositions.

Ramachandra has given Gamaka performances throughout the State without bothering about the financial remuneration and has written many scholarly articles on the art of Gamaka and published many books. He acknowledges the friendship he has earned with great scholars such as Govinda Pai, T.S. Shama Rao, Prof.T.V. Venkatachala Shastry, Dr. K. Krishnamurthy among others.

Acknowledging the admiration and encouragement he has received from the Sahrudayas who inspire him to perform, he hopes that the art of Gamaka remains with him till his last breath. Ramachandra's commitment to this remarkable art form is unparalleled.

[As narrated to Dr. Jyothi Shankar]

Quantum leap of Dengue cases in June triggers panic among public

Mysuru, July 14 (US&SBD)- The spread of vector-borne diseases in and around city has created panic among the public with an apprehension that if the spread of virus was not contained, it could lead to a catastrophe and an irreversible situation.

At the District Surveillance Laboratory, out of 1,917 blood samples of suspected dengue patients, 321 were confirmed as dengue which includes 185 from city and 136 from rural areas.

The samples were drawn from January till date. Alarmingly, out of 321 confirmed cases, 232 were in June alone and 18 samples have already been confirmed of dengue in the first 10 days of July.

Mandya district too has recorded a high number of cases of dengue which was just 46 till end of May from January which shot up to 167 in June alone. Similarly, 98 dengue cases were confirmed in Chamarajanagar over the last six months and the trend was similar in Hassan and Kodagu districts too, according to sources.

Cases of Chikungunya too have been reported along with Dengue and hospitals are flooded with patients and their attendants. A grave situation seems to have arrived where almost all hospitals are turning away patients for want of beds leaving patients in a quandary.

The fear of contracting the disease coupled with lack of treatment has further aggravated the situation with the worst hit being the poor people who have to depend on government hospitals and cannot go all out in search of a private hospital.

The vector-borne diseases is normally confined to city due to mosquito menace. Thanks to unhygienic conditions resulting in the disease to have slowly spread to rural areas which are already reeling under severe drought. When availability of water is scarce, rural people tend to collect and store water for a longer period thus inviting the mosquitoes that spread vector-borne diseases.

Any fever needs an immediate blood test. However the drop in White Blood Corpuscles (WBC) count should not be misinterpreted as dengue case alone. Any fever would bring down the WBC count which improves on proper treatment.

People should take preventive steps instead of going panic on blood test results. The breeding of mosquitoes should be prevented, according to Dr. S. Chidambara, District Vector-Borne Diseases Control Officer.

ZP meeting focuses on vector-borne diseases

Mysuru, July 14- Combating vector-borne diseases in the district figured prominently at the progress review meeting held at Zilla Panchayat office here recently.

Chairman of ZP Social Justice Standing Committee Beerihundi Basavanna, participating in the meeting, asked officials concerned to take immediate steps to clean the water storage tanks in villages. He pointed out that non-availability of good drinking water coupled with unhygienic conditions had resulted in an increase in suspected dengue cases. He disclosed that 18 to 20 deaths have been reported owing to viral fever which the Health Department claim was not due to Dengue. He sought a thorough report on the steps taken to curb the spread of Dengue.

Briefing the meeting, District Vector-Borne Diseases Control Officer Dr. Chidambara said that 321 cases in the district were confirmed as dengue and more patients were from rural areas. Mysuru taluk reported 44 cases and 33 from Nanjangud and situation was equally bad in T. Narasipur.

He stressed on the point that curbing mosquito menace was the primary work to check vector-borne diseases. In that context, the Health Department had constituted Rapid Response teams who were visiting houses and creating awareness on not storing drinking water for more than two days, maintaining cleanliness inside and outside the house.

The rural people are also being educated on stagnation of water where mosquitoes breed, explained Dr. Chidambara adding that instructions have been given to get water tanks cleaned and supply only treated drinking water.

Prashanth loses opportunity to represent country in Deaflympics

Mysuru, July 14- D.H. Prashanth, a hearing impaired tennis player from Mysuru, who had represented the country in the Deaflympics held at Sofia in 2013, has been denied an opportunity to take part in the XXIII Summer Deaflympics 2017 to be held in Turkey from July 15, due to the mismanagement in the All India Sports Council of the Deaf, a National Apex body for deaf sports.

Prashanth, a runner-up in the men's singles in the 20th National Games for Deaf during 2016, was not given the official letter by the Mysore District Deaf Association to the Karnataka State Association for the Deaf resulting in his name not being recommended for the selection trials held at Chennai.

Indian eves eye semi-final berth

Mysuru, July 14- After suffering a crushing eight-wicket loss against Australia in their round-robin match of the ongoing Women's World Cup, India skipper Mithali Raj has called on her team to step up and improve their performance in what would be a virtual quarter-final against New Zealand on July 15.

Raj made ODI history in Bristol on Wednesday but it was Australia who booked its place in the semi-finals of the prestigious tournament at The County Ground.

India skipper Raj surpassed Charlotte Edwards's record run total of 5,992 in one-day internationals during her 69, and while Poonam Raut also notched up a century, it was not enough with Meg Lanning and Ellyse Perry unbeaten for Australia on 76 and 60 respectively.

Australia assured itself of advancing along with England and South Africa, who won their respective matches against New Zealand and Sri Lanka.

London, July 14- Briton Johanna Konta's hopes of a first Wimbledon final ended with a straight-set semi-final defeat by five-time champion Venus Williams.

The 37-year-old American 10th seed played superbly to win 6-4, 6-2 on Centre Court and set up a final against Spain's Garbine Muguruza.

Sixth seed Konta, 26, had hoped to become the first British woman to reach the Wimbledon final since Jo Durie in 1984 but was unable to overcome the power of Williams.

Williams is the oldest Grand Slam singles finalist since Martina Navratilova finished runner-up at Wimbledon in 1994. The American, through to her ninth final, won her first Wimbledon title in 2000 and the most recent of her seven major victories came on Centre Court in 2008.

She will next face Muguruza, the 14th seed, who thrashed unseeded Slovakian Magdalena Rybarikova 6-1 6-1 in just 64 minutes to advance to her second Wimbledon final.

The Spaniard finished runner-up to Serena Williams in 2015, before beating the American to win the French Open in 2016.

City lad smashes 248 in One-Day Cricket

Mysuru, July 14 (VNS)- It was raining sixes and fours at the Manasagangothri Grounds next to Coffee Board which forced the players and a few spectators sitting outside the ground to run looking for shelter. Yes, it was the flawless knock of 248 runs by wicket keeper/batsman B. Dheemanth that made players stand-up and applaud in appreciation of a brilliant display of batting they witnessed, yesterday.

Dheemanth, playing for RBN Cricket Club in the ongoing KSCA Mysuru Zone U-19 Tournament for Clubs, hit his maiden double century with the help of 13 huge sixes and 20 fours which helped his team pile up a massive 458 runs for the loss 5 wickets in 50 overs against SKRSC, K.R.N Nagar. Opening the batting, the talented left-hander played throughout the innings before getting out in the 50th over.

In reply, SKRSC were bowled out for 160 in 36.2 overs with Syed Zain and Niranjan picking up three and two wickets respectively. Dheemanth, who started his cricket coaching at C.V. Ramesh's Cricket Academy as a 11-year-old, has been representing RBNCC 'A' team in KSCA Mysuru Zone 1st Division League for the past three years. He has also represented Mysuru Zone U-16 and U-19 tournaments conducted by KSCA, Bengaluru. He was also a part of U-19 Mofussil XI team and was among the stand-bys in this year's U-23 Mysuru Zone team.

WORD OF THE DAY

Meme

Pronunciation: MEEM
Meaning: An idea, behaviour, style, or usage that spreads from person to person within a culture; an amusing or interesting item (such as a captioned picture or video) or genre of items that is spread widely online especially through social media.
Origin: In his 1976 book The Selfish Gene, British scientist Richard Dawkins defended his newly-coined word meme, which he defined as "a unit of cultural transmission." Having first considered, then rejected, mimeme, he wrote: "Mimeme comes from a suitable Greek root, but I want a monosyllable that sounds a bit like gene." (The suitable Greek root was mim-, meaning "mime" or "mimic." The English suffix -eme indicates a distinctive unit of language structure, as in grapheme, lexeme, and phoneme.)
Like any good meme, meme caught on and evolved, eventually developing the meaning known to anyone who spends time online, where it's most often used to refer to any one of those silly captioned photos that the Internet can't seem to get enough of.

THE ODD WORD

Warden

Kind of pear used in cooking.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Heavens to Murgatroyd

Meaning: An exclamation of surprise.

Origin: 'Heavens to Murgatroyd' is American in origin and dates from the mid-20th century. The expression was popularised by the cartoon character Snagglepuss - a regular on the Yogi Bear Show in the 1960s, and is a variant of the earlier 'heavens to Betsy.' Despite etymologists' best efforts, there isn't any record of the phrase that predates the cartoon series and it seems quite likely that it was coined by the Show's writers. As with Betsy, we have no idea who Murgatroyd was. The various spellings of the name - as Murgatroid, Mergatroyd or Mergatroid tend to suggest that it wasn't a reference to an actual person but just a fanciful expression made up because it sounded wacky. No fewer than ten of the characters in Gilbert and Sullivan's comic opera Ruddigore, 1887, are baronets surnamed "Murgatroyd", eight of whom are ghosts. Where then did the librettist Sir William Gilbert get the name? It seems that Murgatroyd has a long history as a family name in the English aristocracy. In his genealogy The Murgatroyds of Murgatroyd, Bill Murgatroyd states that, in 1371, a constable was appointed for the district of Warley in Yorkshire.
